We are Touchstone

Touchstone Rail is founded upon a combined knowledge base and experience of over 50 years of its directors who have represented both client and contracting organisations on several high-profile national infrastructure projects. Supported by industry leading associates, we specialise in a wide range of rail engineering, design and assurance functions spanning the full lifecycle of projects from concept and development, through the construction phase and entry into service to completions.

Our team at Touchstone Rail has an extensive knowledge base gained through decades of experience in the delivery of major projects. Our core aim is to provide our clients with a high quality and reliable service delivered by competent rail professionals.

Experience and capability

Drawing from the combined experience of our team, we have the capability to make a positive difference to your project. We will add credibility and confidence with decisive leadership at every stage.

Positive Interaction

Engaging, approachable, flexible and proactive, we're committed to making a positive difference for our clients and service users.

Interface management

Our vast stakeholder management experience separates us from our competitors. By efficiently managing the interface between third parties and clients, we eliminate time, effort and cost, resolving conflicts through collaboration.

Industry Knowledge

To complement our in-house expertise, we have immediate access to an extensive network of associates and multi-disciplinary SMEs covering the full spectrum of railway systems and functions.

Safety first

We operate a positive health and safety culture. Safety starts with every individual which underpins the collective values of Touchstone Rail.

Nationwide coverage

We are resourced to undertake any assignment or provide project support throughout the whole of the UK Rail network and have the flexibility to operate at short notice.

Multi-Disciplinary Rail Consultancy

Providing exceptional multi-disciplinary engineering consultancy services throughout the project lifecycle. Our discipline experts and rail system engineers have the experience and know how to add value at every stage of your project

Project engineering

Providing experienced and competent individuals for key engineering roles in both client and supply chain organisations. All engineers undergo a full and robust assessment in accordance with our competence management system aligned to NR/L2/RSE/02009

We provide ATW Project Engineers, DPEs and System Engineers, or CRE's and CEM's with specific experience tailored to your project requirements

Design and Assurance Services

Providing a comprehensive suite of Permanent Way design services, we support clients in every aspect of permanent way engineering. Ranging from concept & feasibility, through to design, build and completions we offer fully managed, efficient design solutions

Professional Resourcing

Partnering with MatchTech through a joint venture agreement we provide clients access to a large talent pool of professionally sourced, industry leading individuals robustly vetted through our competency management system

ASPRO Asset Protection Services

We have extensive experience working within the ASPRO organisation and are well placed to help your project navigate the process and manage the complex interface with Network Rail and other key stakeholders. We support third party and outside party organisations in their delivery of rail infrastructure schemes or works adjacent to the railway
